

66th YEAR

RICHMOND, VA., SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1916.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

SOCIETY

The coming week is to be full of interesting wedding ceremonies. Much interest centers about the marriage of Miss Cornelia Horsford Ellis, daughter of Major and Mrs. William Munford Ellis, and Yelverton Evans Book, of Washington, formerly of this city, which is to be celebrated at "Madison," the country estate of the bride's parents, near Shawsville. The bride, who was educated at Hollins College, is a lovely young girl and belongs to one of the oldest and most distinguished families in the State. She is a granddaughter of the late President Tyler, her mother having been Miss Pearl Tyler, and her marriage into another family, equally as prominent socially, as the house from which she comes, is of wide interest. The ceremony will take place at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends.

The fashionable set is also deeply interested in the wedding of Miss Edna Froehlich and George W. Stevens, Jr., son of George W. Stevens, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, which will be celebrated on Tuesday. The marriage will take place very quietly at the home of the bride's parents, Mount Auburn, Cincinnati, and only a few intimate friends and relatives will witness the ceremony. Mr. Stevens and his bride will leave immediately on their private car for New York and on their return from their wedding trip will make their home in Richmond. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Froehlich.

Another prominent wedding set for Tuesday of this week is that of Miss Elizabeth Goodwin Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew de Jarrette Dew Hart, of Albemarle, to William Atkinson Jones, Jr. The wedding will take place at "Sunny Bank," the home of the bride's parents, near North garden, and a number of guests from this city will attend. Mr. Jones is a son of Congressman William A. Jones.

A number of relatives from Richmond will go to Orange on Thursday to attend the marriage of Miss Lucy Goode Puryear, to William Edward Garnett, of Charlottesville. The ceremony will take place at "Edgewood," the Puryear home, in Orange County. The bride is a daughter of the late Professor B. Puryear, of Richmond College, and Mrs. Puryear, and has a great many relatives and friends in Richmond.

Miss Clara Cornelia Magill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edward Magill, of this city, will be married to Robert MacLean Whittey, also of Richmond, at the summer home of her parents in the Sapphire country of North Carolina. The ceremony will take place on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at "Minnehaha," at Montreat.

These weddings will be charming affairs of the early fall season. A bride has all the chance in the world to exercise her own individual taste in decoration and color scheme with the woods turning green and gold, on the one hand, and fields of autumn flowers stretching away from the mountains or down to the sea, as the case may be on the other. The fall blossoms are fairly reaching out to be plucked and field and garden flowers have breathed in sentiment from the sunshine and shower, just for such an occasion. The starry asters would make a fairy's crown and the golden rod her scepter. The whole world of autumn out of doors is beginning to be taken in and made a part of happiness and content.

BRENT WITT

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. W. Gravelly gave a reception Friday evening at their home in Rocky Mount, N. C., in honor of their son, L. L. Gravelly, and his bride.

The interior of the house was beautifully decorated. Trailing fern festooned doorways, windows, mantels, and entwined the stairway, and golden rod, marigold and canna were effectively used throughout.

Receiving the cards at the door were little Misses Mary Young Weisiger and Susie Jones, attired in white lingerie frocks with yellow ribbons. Miss Mary Smith and Winston Gravelly and Mesdames Johnston King and Turner Bunn also assisted in doing the honors, and the punch bowl was presided over by Misses Alice Wynne and Genevieve Gillo, assisted by Misses Lula Gravelly and Mary Sue Hanna.

Mrs. J. W. Weisiger presented the guests to the receiving line, which included Mr. and Mrs. J. O. W. Gravelly, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Gravelly, who wore her wedding gown. Mrs. C. W. Smith, also assisted in the receiving line, and the dining room was decorated with a centerpiece of yellow blossoms, and from the yellow-shaded light ropes of asparagus fern were extended to the edge of the table. Receiving in the dining room were Misses Augusta DeLine, Edna Draugh, Josephine Herndon, of Richmond; Dr.

elyn Shore, Norma Holden, Lou Spencer Ament. The younger guests were entertained at a dance at 10:30 o'clock.

Prominent Engagement.
An engagement of interest in naval circles and throughout the State is that of Mrs. Olive Gale Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Gale, of Washington, to Captain Ridley McLean, judge-advocate-general of the United States Navy. Mrs. Hill, who has been spending the summer with her parents in Bluemont, is very popular, not only in Washington, but throughout the State. She is a granddaughter of the late Thomas J. Fisher, Captain McLean is a member of the Metropolitan, Chevy Chase and Army and Navy Clubs and a graduate of Annapolis in the class of 1894.

Markham-Lewis.
The wedding of Miss Pearl Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lewis, to E. Flournoy Markham, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Markham, of Chesterfield County, was quietly celebrated on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents at Hallsboro. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. H. Winfree, with only the immediate families present. The bride wore a traveling costume of blue cloth with black picture hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Markham left later for a wedding journey north, and on their return will be at home at Hallsboro. The bride, who is a musician of talent, is a graduate of the Richmond Conservatory of Music.

Quiet Wedding.
A quiet but pretty wedding took place on Tuesday afternoon at 6 o'clock at the residence of Rev. A. H. Saunders, in Norfolk, when Miss Mattie Brown Mundy became the bride of Nathan Thomas Cox, of Portsmouth. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only a few friends. The bride wore a gown of gray chiffon tulle, with lace and gloves to match, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Mrs. C. W. Walker was the matron of honor and only attendant and wore blue tulle and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. Mr. Cox had as his best man, Jack McMillan. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cox left for a bridal trip to Asheville, N. C., and after October 1 will be at home in Norfolk.

Among the guests present were Mrs. E. M. Crawford, of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Walker, of Portsmouth; Mrs. J. J. Bright, Mrs. B. E. McMorrey, Jack McMillan and Watt Long, of Portsmouth, and Maher Dorsett, of Spencer, N. C.

Camping Party in Giles.
On the ridge at the southeast end of Mountain Lake, a party of young people have been enjoying camp life for the past week. One of the most enjoyable affairs was a trip to Bald Knob to watch the sun rise. "Old Henry," the auto truck belonging to the party, has the distinction of being the first loaded car to make the climb to the top of the knob without a stop.

The members of the camping party were Misses Lula Luck, of Crozet, Virginia; Harris and Mary Morgan, Bel-spring; Messrs. Ralph Lipscomb, Roanoke; John Morgan and Paul Harris, of Bel-spring; Mrs. E. L. Harris, of Bel-spring, who was the chaperon.

Home Wedding.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schremp, of 318 West Cary Street, was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday morning, when their daughter, Annie Margaret, became the bride of George Bright Ganzert, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Ganzert, of this city.

The parlors were decorated with palms and ferns, and Rev. J. Y. Fair, D. D., officiated. The bride wore a traveling suit of blue, with a black hat, and carried a bouquet of orchids. Miss Edith Schremp was her sister's maid of honor, and Henry Anderson acted as best man.

An informal reception followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Ganzert left for Natural Bridge. They will be at home to their friends after October 1 at 2124 Floyd Avenue.

Introduced Dr. Mason's Ideas.
Ernest L. Bolling introduced in Richmond the ideas of Dr. William Mason on piano technique. Dr. Mason's original ideas as to velocity in scales and arpeggios marked a new era in that line and are approved by numbers of the great pianists in that it saved the delving on the numberless so-called études. Some of Mr. Bolling's pupils who played for Dr. Mason and other distinguished pianists, have been highly complimented. Mr. Bolling has had pupils at the age of nine give public recitals by memory. Edward MacDowell, William H. Sherwood and others were at one time pupils and admirers of the late Dr. Mason and have written of Dr. Mason's contribution to the musical world in the way of technical ideas.

A Surprise Party.
A surprise party was given in honor of Miss Edith Onesty, on Tuesday evening. A color scheme of pink and green was carried out in the decoration, games were played and refreshments served.
